

New Spring & Summer Offerings at Chatty Child™

Hybrid Therapeutic Models: In Person & Remote Options for Speech-Language, Occupational, and Physical Therapy

Chatty Child Speech, Occupational & Physical Therapy, PLLC is currently offering both in person and remote individual telehealth sessions for speech-language, occupational & physical therapy. Both modalities of treatment are highly effective. We are a team with extensive experience in speech, occupational and physical therapies in both in-person and telehealth therapeutic intervention. We utilize engaging, interactive materials in all our individualized treatment sessions, whether remote or in-person.

1:1 Therapy Sessions

All of Chatty Child's Speech-Language, Occupational & Physical Therapy 1:1 sessions are by appointment only. Remote and in-person options are available. Strict COVID-19 precautions will be taken, per CDC regulations, during all in-person sessions. Remote sessions are conducted via secure Zoom, and the child must be a resident of New York State to receive remote teletherapy.

A Chatty Child™ therapist will first assess your child's speech-language, occupational, and/or physical therapy needs, and make their clinical recommendations. A customized treatment program will be developed to address each area of concern, if clinically recommended. This will be tailored to meet the individual needs and learning style of your child, while utilizing creative, engaging, effective techniques to improve your child's developmental skills. We are currently accepting new patients—in-person and remote patients—for the spring and summer semester.

Contact us today for all your individual speech, occupational & physical therapy needs. Let's create a tailored therapeutic program for your child and get started!
